GROWN ALCHEMIST

HEALTH = FUNCTION = BEAUTY

A premium Australian skincare brand with laboratories and cosmetic chemists scattered across the world that offers optimum skincare health through a combination of scientific formulations and natural ingredients.

Improve the health of skin cells, enhance their function and release your true inner beauty without the need for any synthetic chemicals, thanks to the organic formulations of their products.

The core element of Omorovicza skincare lies in the remarkable healing properties of thermal waters. The unique geological features of Budapest are characterised by thinner earth's crust, so waters absorb beneficial minerals more effectively as they journey to the surface. The Healing Concentrate™ is a uniquely developed and patented complex that has made it possible to deliver these therapeutic minerals from the thermal water, directly to the deepest layers of the skin.

Seed to Skin Tuscany goes beyond the trend of purely natural, combining the power of nature's curative properties with the results-driven efficiency of advanced science. They call it Green Molecular Science, and the result is rejuvenated, supple and fully hydrated skin that is visibly lit from within, making you feel beautiful from the inside out. Restoring the eco-balance of the land and maintaining soil integrity are guiding principles on their 270-acre farm and estate in Italy.
